

Fig. S2. Value of Akaike information criterion (AIC) at each basis dimension (k), from six to twelve, in the following four types of generalized additive models: models explaining shoot length of all samples (A) and of samples in each sampling site (B), and models explaining wet weight of all samples (C) and of samples in each sampling site (D).